CONSTIPATION IS A HEALTH THIEF

Drive It from Your System
with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Constipation steals the best out of your life. Robs you of strength, vitality, health itself! And many people do not realize that perpetual fatigue, coated tongues, bad breath, are often signs that constipation is in their system.

You must move poisonous wastes out of your system and keep them moving. But there's a right way and a wrong way. Pills, drugs and ordinary cathartics give but temporary relief—and their dose must be constantly increased to be effective. The great natural cleanser is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. A tasty cereal, which brings you iron for blood building—and, above all, corrects constipation. The abundant roughage in ALL-BRAN gently and naturally sweeps out poisonous wastes and impurities.

Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN. It's guaranteed. Two table-spoonfuls daily. Recurring cases—with every meal. Remember that Kellogg's is the original ALL-BRAN—the product that millions have proved effective.

You'll like the nut-like flavor of ALL-BRAN. Eat it in many ways. Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Make muffins with it. At all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants, dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Woman's Suicide
Plunge Is Found
'False Alarm'

They did not drag the Chattahoochee Friday for the body of a woman and her infant child who were widely reported to have plunged over the bridge at Johnson's ferry "to end it all."

In fact, until county police told her—Mrs. Moon was the name—the woman did not even know that the suicide, which caused most of the county police and a battery of reporters and cameramen to dash madly out to the ferry, had been lost.

It seems that Mrs. Moon, who lives just across the river, and her son, Elbert, and small child, were returning home from a friend's house. Just as they got on the Johnson's ferry bridge the suitcase, theretofore strapped on the fender, became loose and fell onto the bridge.

Along came a white man who took a hurried look at the lingerie, a more hurried look at the pulsing waters under him and a still more hurried run to a telephone box. On the way he met a negro who, the police recalled, said something about a woman, walking, holding her child in one arm and the suitcase in the other.

Hawshaw himself never collected more misinformation than the police received but, under command of Lieutenant A. L. Butler, they cleared up the mystery in about the same length of time it took an unknown but wholly zealous pedestrian to create it.

Sales Tax Receipts
Amount to $331,136.92

State Tax Commissioner R. C. Norman announced Friday that total receipts from the gross sales tax for the last quarter of 1929 amounted to $331,136.92.

This sum was divided as follows:
Business, Levy, Amount.
Retailers 2 Mills $133,972.26
Wholesalers 1 Mill 62,641.53
Manufacturers 3 Mills 60,300.38
Amusements 3 Mills 2,867.36
Public utilities 3 Mills 33,215.61

as father and next friend of John Stanford, Tech High school student. The plaintiff charges that young Smith, while working in the school chemical laboratory on April 4, 1929, with young Stanford, threw the acid into or at the sink thereby flinging the searing fluid into the face of John Stanford and permanently disfiguring Stanford's face. The suit was filed by the law firm of Knight & Patterson.

Dr. Carstens Here
On Welfare Work

Dr. C. C. Carstens, international authority on child welfare, is in Atlanta for conferences with Dr. J. P. Faulkner, executive secretary of the state department of public welfare, regarding child welfare work in this state.

Dr. Carstens is director of Section IV of the White House conference on child welfare. He called attention to the southeastern regional conference of the Child Welfare League of America meeting in Birmingham February 28 and March 1, when representatives of numerous organizations doing this kind of work will assemble for discussion of their common problems.

Fla. G. O. P. To Seek
Repeal of Dry Law

LAKELAND, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—In calling the state republican committee to meet March 8 for the perfection of plans for the June primary Chairman E. E. Callaway has announced his intention of presenting a plank in the party platform seeking the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the substitution of a "common sense" plan.

"As it is now written and interpreted, prohibition is worse than a failure," he said. "It has brought neither temperance nor respect for the law that we earnestly desire."

"If the national republican party does not change its present attitude toward this question we will suffer a disaster in the 1932 elections."

"I am not a drinking man personally. I advocate the state right method, leaving to each state the solution of its own difficulties."

Mr. Callaway said he had no criticism for those who advocate national prohibition, but expressed the opinion that "we have not advanced to that state of wisdom where we can discard the labor of human experience."

Gaines Elected Head
Of W. & L. University

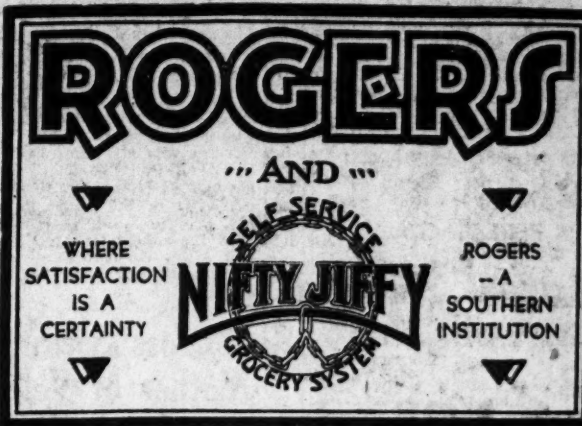

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Dr. Frank P. Gaines, president of Wake Forest college in North Carolina, was today elected president of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., to succeed Dr. Henry Louis Smith, retired. Dr. Smith was elected president emeritus.

Dr. Gaines came to Wake Forest recently after a long period of service as a professor at Furman University in Greenville, S. C. He is a graduate of the University of Richmond and is a brother of Dr. R. E. Gaines, a professor at Richmond.

Father, Three Boys Convicted by Jury

A father and his three sons Friday drew sentences of 12 months each following arraignment in criminal court of Atlanta on a charge of simple larceny from Fulton county.

According to the story told in criminal court, D. Baker, the father, was serving time for a whiskey law violation, and was a trusty at River Camp. The father took some shoes, an ax, a cap, and a quantity of beans and potatoes, hiding the alleged loot from the county's stores in a field, where the sons got it, according to the officers.

County policemen stopped G. E. Baker, W. E. and H. L. Baker, the sons, on the road for not having a tail-light, and found the alleged loot in their car, it was said. The father pleaded guilty, and the sons were convicted by a jury.

Work of Judge Wood Commended by Jury

Speed and dispatch in the handling of all court matter by Judge Jesse M. Wood, of criminal court of Atlanta, and his assistants Friday drew commendation of members of the February term jury of Judge Wood's court in the form of resolutions adopted by the jurors. The members of the jury went on record as most heartily indorsing the verdicts administered by Judge Wood, and "commending him and his able assistants for their speed and dispatch in the handling of all matters."

Red Cross Seeking Mother of Veteran

The Atlanta chapter of the American Red Cross has been asked by the United States Veterans' Bureau to locate Mrs. Sarah Cooper, mother of a deceased ex-service man, James E. Cooper. Mrs. Cooper formerly lived at 1518 Grover street, Jacksonville, Fla., and at 411 Canell street, Valdosta, Ga., but letters to her at these addresses have been returned unclaimed.

Medical Service Valued $55,000

Given to Needy

Progress has been made in extending services and contacts into every part of Fulton and DeKalb counties, P. E. Glenn, president, reported to the annual meeting of the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday afternoon.

In round figures, the annual report of the association disclosed the $55,000 worth of free medical service has been rendered to Atlanta's poor during the year and that 50 cases of tuberculosis have been diagnosed.

This was in addition to clinical and nursing service, educational work and visits.

The educational service has been increased nearly 100 per cent, the report showed and the cost of administration of the association reduced. A total of 2,624 cases was treated during the year. The number of doctors giving free service was 44, visits to clinics served by nurses were 1,127, and the total free services of laboratories 3,547.

"Every effort has been made," President Glenn reported, "to give a better and wider service during 1929 and we plan to bring this to an even higher stage during 1930 if it is made possible. The personnel of the volunteer service of the medical staff, laboratory service and the board of directors is of a very high order and our paid staff is increasingly showing its efficiency. To meet the need of Atlanta's poor and those suffering with tuberculosis lacks but one thing—a larger budget. A continued effort is being made to secure a larger budget for the work of two but in spite of every effort that is hardly humanly possible."

Glenn reported that through the generosity of David Woodward, one of the association directors, a gift of $2,500 had been tendered toward the purchase price of the property on which are now located the association offices, 286 Forrest avenue, conditioned upon raising $3,000, remainder of the purchase price by May 1, 1930. The association, as a result of contributions, is now within $2,055 of the goal.

Speeding Ambulance Drivers Are Assailed

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, acting upon a complaint made by Reuben R. Arnold, prominent Atlanta lawyer, Friday directed Chief of Police Beavers to enforce traffic laws against speeding ambulances and to "make cases against reckless drivers" in this type unless dangerous driving is stopped.

Mr. Arnold told the mayor that some of the reckless driving downtown endangered the lives of pedestrians at street crossings, adding that the few minutes gained by the speed is probably of no special benefit to the patient in the ambulance.

Kidnaped Bookmaker Saved From Captors

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Jacob Hoffman, St. Louis bookmaker, kidnaped for ransom Tuesday night, was found this morning in a house in St. Louis county. Two men and a woman who were found guarding him in the house were arrested.

A raid on the house by police followed receipt of a tip that Hoffman's friends had paid $10,000 to a go-between last night with the understanding that the bookmaker would be freed some time today.

Hoffman was carried away by five masked men who held up and robbed 20 men at the headquarters of the Mississippi Valley Showmen's Association.

SENATE SPEEDS UP ACTION ON TARIFF

Spirit of Compromise Prevails as Solons Pass More Farm Duties.

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—

In a spirit of compromise and with only slight opposition, the senate today disposed of individual amendments to the agriculture, spirits, cotton and flax schedules and thereby completed action on two-thirds of the 15 rate sections of the tariff bill.

Wool and the other textile sections will come up next week. The senate was not expected to do anything tomorrow but listen to the reading by Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, of George Washington's farewell address and then adjourn. Seven more increases in farm duties were put through today with principal opposition being voiced against an amendment by Senator Howell, republican independent, Nebraska, to double the existing 18 cents a pound rate on dried eggs. This was approved after Senators Vandenberg, Maryland, and Copeland, New York, both democrats, argued the 36-cent rate would raise the cost of bakery products. Howell said 25,000 tons of dried eggs came in from China last year and with the higher levy, more domestic eggs would be used by bakers.

Frozen eggs also were assigned a higher levy, 11 cents a pound as compared with 8 cents in the bill and 6 cents at present. Other farm rate advances were on celery, lettuce, cabbage and alfalfa and red clover seed.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, lost in an attempt to restore the existing levy of 50 cents a hundred pounds on white potatoes and the 75-cent rate was retained in the bill. The only other change in the farm schedule was a reduction to the existing level of 45 per cent in the duty on preserved or canned mushrooms, which the bill had raised by adding a 10 cents a pound specific levy.

Debate on this item revolved around the mushroom center of Kennett Square, Pennsylvania, where Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, sponsor of the rate cut, said a prosperous industry had been built up under existing protection.

Dope Seller Loses Case in U. S. Court

An exceedingly promising avenue of "legal escape" for countless federal prisoners was tightly closed here Friday with the receipt of an opinion from Judge Samuel H. Sibley in New Orleans denying the habeas corpus petition of Anthony Ballerini.

According to Hal Lindsay, assistant United States district attorney, a decision favoring the petitioner would have resulted in innumerable habeas corpus proceedings being started by prisoners in federal penitentiaries in all parts of the country.

In explaining the case he said that Ballerini had been sentenced in New York on two counts of an indictment charging sale of morphine without complying with the legal registration forms and, in addition, not from the original stamped package. He received five years on the first count and four on the second. The petition maintained that both counts were the same, but Judge Sibley ruled differently.

Blankenship Heads Telephone Workers

R. H. Blankenship, of Atlanta, was elected president of the Southern Association of Bell Telephone Employees Friday at the final session of the general assembly of delegates held in the Piedmont hotel.

D. C. Harrell, accounting department of Kentucky, was selected vice president. The office of general secretary will be filled later by appointment.

Delegates from nine states were present for the annual assembly when it convened February 17. A welcoming address was given by Kendall Weisger, assistant to the president, followed by a business session. At night the delegates were entertained by the Atlanta locals at a dance in the Henry Grady ball room.

Stetson Elects.

DELAND, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—John B. Stetson III, of Elkins Park, Pa., and John Edwards, of Ocala, Fla., were elected to the board of trustees of Stetson University here at the annual meeting of that body today. Mr. Stetson will fill the vacancy caused by the death of his grandmother, the Countess of Santa Eulalia and mother of John B. Stetson, Jr., president of the board of trustees of the university. Mr. Edwards will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. B. F. Camp, of White Springs.

Shillings Injured In Auto Accident

H. S. Shillings, 334 Pryor street, is in Grady hospital with a badly fractured left leg suffered in front of his home shortly after 7 o'clock Friday night. Shillings was struck by a car driven by R. F. Flanagan, 1907 Lakewood avenue, who was going south on Pryor street. According to a statement the latter made to Call Officers Robert Floyd and R. L. Moseley, Shillings walked from behind a parked car directly in the path of his machine. No charge was preferred.

It's the FLAVOR that makes them taste better... GIBBS Beans with Pork

GIBBS & CO.
INCORPORATED
BALTIMORE, MD.

At first sight there is something about these big, meaty beans that promises an extra pleasure to your appetite. And at first taste—you just know that Gibbs' Beans with Pork are in a class by themselves—richer, more savory, finer in flavor.

The choicest full-grown beans so characteristic of the Gibbs' brand are blended with the rare tomato sauce that took many years to perfect. Naturally you will want no other kind, once you have learned how amazingly different and more appetizing beans are, when served the Gibbs' way. "Say Gibbs".

LAST MEETING TODAY IN OLD CITY HALL

No Other Business Will Be Transacted, However, Until Monday Morning.

Despite the fact that 8 o'clock Friday night had been set officially as the deadline at which all departments of the local government would begin moving from the old city hall building at Forsyth and Marietta streets to the new $1,000,000 structure at Washington and Mitchell streets, a general exodus was begun early Friday morning and continued with such rapidity that virtually every department was in the new structure late in the afternoon.

No business will be transacted at either of the city halls today, but all departments will be open for business at the new quarters beginning at 8 o'clock Monday morning.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale himself will be the last one to leave the old structure. At 9 o'clock this morning he has called a meeting of all department heads at his old office, and soon after that his office fixtures will be moved to his new quarters.

R. L. McEntire Company, holders of the contract to move the borough's equipment from the old structure to the new, was pushing every working top speed in the effort to get everything moved into the new structure by this morning.

Department heads will arrange their furniture and other equipment today and by Monday morning the building will be ready to welcome the public.

The seat of the local government was moved from Pryor and Hunter streets to the present old city hall site at Forsyth and Marietta streets in 1911.

It previously had occupied a place on the present site of the state capitol building.

Mrs. Vera Hester, an employee of the water department, is the oldest woman employee of the municipal government in point of service, and saw service in three city hall buildings.

Councilman Charles L. Chowwood, veteran councilman from the third ward, is the only one of the 39 members of general council who served in the three buildings.

W. Zode Smith, general manager, W. R. Rapp, J. S. Godwin, Jack O'Meara and B. P. Baker, all of the water department, served the city 20 years ago.

Dr. John P. Kennedy, city health officer, Friday afternoon moved his 30-year-old desk from the old building to the new. He used it when he served at the Pryor street city hall.

Watkins Is Named To Succeed Durham

The Rev. W. T. Watkins, pastor of the Emory Methodist church, has been selected as successor of church history in the Candler school of theology, Emory University. Mr. Watkins temporarily takes the place of Dr. Plato Durham, who died February 17.

The Emory pastor is a B. A. graduate of Emory University, his first year of theological work was done in the Candler school of theology. The second he spent at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. Coming back to America he completed his residence work at Yale University for his doctor of philosophy degree, which he expects to receive at the completion of his thesis.

Church Campaign Workers To Meet

Ministers and lay workers of the churches will participate in the simultaneous evangelistic campaign to be conducted by the churches of Greater Atlanta will meet next Tuesday for reports on the preparatory work and to complete further plans for the campaign. The metropolitan area has been divided into 22 districts or community groups.

CHAUTEMPS PICKS RADICAL CABINET

BY STEWART BROWN.
United News Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Camille Chautemps finished a strenuous 48 hours today by announcing a new cabinet to replace that of Andre Tardieu, which fell Monday night, and declaring he would lead the French naval delegation to London.

The new government consists entirely of ministers belonging to left parties, and might be termed a "left" or "radical" cabinet, although its tendencies are not radical in the accepted sense of the word.

All the members are either left radicals or radical socialists except Aristide Briand, who was chosen again as foreign minister. Briand belongs to the republican socialists, a small coterie of men believing in pacifism, but while he will continue on the naval delegation he can be outvoted by the "big navy" delegates which Chautemps will take to London.

Observers do not expect Chautemps' cabinet to last long. It contains about 200 votes in the chamber of deputies, providing there are no absences, but this majority might become feeble in view of strong opposition from the center groups led by Tardieu and Andre Maginot, former minister of war. The general expectation is that Chautemps will be overthrown, possibly as early as next week, and that Tardieu will be ready to form a cabinet with left and center support.

Cabinet Personnel.

The new cabinet, as announced by the 45-year-old Chautemps, is as follows:

Premier and minister of interior—Camille Chautemps, radical socialist. Justice and vice president of chamber—Senator Theodore Steeg, radical socialist.

Foreign affairs, Aristide Briand, holdover, republican socialist; finance, Senator Charles Dumont, radical socialist; war, Senator Rene Besnard, radical socialist; marine, Senator Albert Sarraut, radical socialist; merchant marine, Deputy Charles Deloncle, left radical; public instruction, Senator Jean Durand, radical socialist; public works, Deputy Edouard Daladier, radical socialist; commerce, Senator Georges Bonnet, radical socialist; agriculture, Deputy Cornez Queuille, radical socialist; labor, Louis Loucheur, holdover, left radical; pensions, Senator Dr. Gallet, radical socialist; air, Laurent Eynac, holdover, left radical; colonies, Deputy Lucien Lamoureux, radical socialist; finance budget, newly created ministry, Deputy Maurice Perceval, radical socialist; telephone and telegraphs, Deputy Julien Duran, radical socialist.

Because of the urgency of constituting a government so that the London conference can be resumed, Chautemps will hold his first cabinet meeting Sunday at his first official meeting Tuesday morning. He will go before the chamber Tuesday afternoon with his ministerial declaration of policy. He plans to leave for London Wednesday, accompanied by Briand, Minister of Marine Sarraut and Minister of Colonies Lamoureux. Tardieu, his minister of marine; Georges Leygues, his minister of colonies; Francois Pietri, thus drop out of the disarmament picture. Chautemps did not announce whether Louis Loucheur, his holdover minister of labor, would continue as a naval delegate.

Mrs. Frank Rhodes
Dies in Lexington

LEXINGTON, Feb. 21.—(Special.) Mrs. Frank Rhodes, one of the oldest residents of Lexington, died here tonight of pneumonia, she would have been 90 in June. Mrs. Rhodes came to Lexington in 1860 as a bride. Her maiden name was Miss Martha E. Senseney. She is survived by four children: Mrs. David Kern, Roanoke; Mrs. F. M. Mitchell, Lynchburg; Ernest Rhodes, Atlanta, and Charlie Rhodes, Miami. Funeral services will be held at the Trinity Methodist church here at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Rev. G. C. Martin will officiate.

Memorial Service Planned for Durham

Negro and white committees on church co-operation and the Women's Inter-Racial committee, of both races, will hold a memorial service for Dr. Plato Durham on Monday at 12:30 o'clock February 24 in the Butler street Y. M. C. A.

PROHI FIGHT SHIFTED TO FLOOR OF HOUSE

Representative Mead, Democrat, New York, Urges Dry Law Referendum.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The prohibition controversy which has been raging over Washington since before Christmas continued today in the house, where Representative Mead, democrat, New York, urged a referendum on the dry law.

Also, Secretary Mellon set forth in a letter to Chairman Hawley, of the house ways and means committee, the treasury department opposition to the Sirovich bill, proposing to substitute non-poisonous denaturants for the present formulae now approved for industrial alcohol.

Besides declaring that the measure was impracticable and that the proposed legislation was unnecessary, Secretary Mellon wrote that the denaturants proposed would not protect alcohol from diversion for bootleg purposes.

The "man in the green hat"—George L. Cassidy—who was arrested again near the senate office building Tuesday on a liquor charge, was ordered held for grand jury action in police court. John T. Gately, of Baltimore, arrested with him, was held under $2,000 bond. Cassidy already faces one liquor indictment subsequent to his arrest in the capitol in November.

Mead held the struggles of Canada with prohibition were a parallel to those in this country.

He said the utility of prohibition in the dominion had been soon realized and in liquor charge, was ordered held for grand jury action in police court. John T. Gately, of Baltimore, arrested with him, was held under $2,000 bond. Cassidy already faces one liquor indictment subsequent to his arrest in the capitol in November.

"After experiencing the dismal failure of prohibition," Mead said, "our people changed their minds as quickly as did the people of Canada, but unlike the wise provisions of the Canadian law on the subject, our people are unable to give expression clearly and universally to their views on the question."

He said the people should have opportunity for a national referendum on prohibition, in order that congress, the law enforcement commission and the people themselves could learn the attitude of the country.

The New Yorker presented figures to show that Canada was making a strong bid for the tourist trade from this country and declared that millions of people went to the dominion each year and expended approximately $300,000,000 for beverages, lodging, food and auto supplies.

"Canada's tourist trade," he said, "is one of the principal factors in that country's post-war economic progress and is responsible in large measure for the prosperity it is now enjoying."

Alabama Banker
Takes Own Life

PRATTVILLE, Ala., Feb. 21.—(AP) With a pistol lying by his side, Ralph Moore, president of the Autauga Bank and Trust Co., of Prattville, Ala., shot himself in the chest today.

Officers said he took his own life. Sheriff R. H. Weeks announced tonight following a conference that there was no evidence of foul play. Sheriff Weeks said no further investigation would be made by his department. Judge Dickinson was acting as coroner.

Walter Merritt, negro, tramping through the woods, discovered the body and notified Prattville authorities.

Mr. Moore had been in ill health for several weeks and had complained of severe headaches. His widow and two children survive.

State Is Enjoined
By Garage Company

A permanent injunction to prevent the state comptroller general from forcing the Forsyth Hunter Company to pay a corporation license tax based on capital stock was granted Friday by Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy, of Fulton superior court, who held that the company was not liable for the tax.

Morris Brandon, Jr., represented the Forsyth Hunter Company, owner of the garage at the northeast corner of Forsyth and Hunter streets. The comptroller general was represented by George N. Napier, attorney general; T. R. Gross, assistant attorney general; Troutman and Troutman, and Robert S. Sams.

The company maintained that it was not "doing business in Georgia" within the meaning of the act, because it did not operate the garage it owned and was doing no business except the collection of its rents and paying them out in the form of dividends to its stockholders. The comptroller general took the position that the company was liable for the tax, even though its garage was leased for a term of years.

Pictures of Count,
Fiance of Ileana,
Ordered Down

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 21.—(UN)—The broken engagement of Princess Ileana and Count Alexander Von Hohenberg caused both public and political excitement here today.

The government ordered all pictures and photographs showing the count with the princess to be removed from show windows.

Ship's Stranded Crew
2 Days Without Food

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Senator Metcalf, Rhode Island, was advised today that Charles C. Harris, of Pawtucket, R. I., and 30 other American seamen were stranded at St. Vincent, Cape Verde islands, and had been without food or water for two days after their ship had been seized for salvage.

The information was contained in a telegram to the senator from Catherine Jeffrey, his secretary at Providence. The senator immediately conferred with the state department and said he was promised that the matter would be investigated.

The telegram follows:

"Charles C. Harris, of Pawtucket, chief engineer steamer Arcturus, and 30 other American seamen are stranded at St. Vincent, Cape Verde islands. They were towed to St. Vincent by British steamer Cordelia and their ship seized for salvage. Were without food or water for two days and have had very little to eat since."

"They have sent two cablegrams to American consul at Madeira for advice and help but have not received reply."

ARIZONA EXECUTES WOMAN SLAYER

Mrs. Eva Dugan Is First of Sex Hanged in State.

FLORENCE, Ariz., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Eva Dugan, 32, mother of two children, was hanged today for the murder three years ago of A. J. Mathis, aged rancher, of Tucson, Ariz. She was the first woman to be legally executed in Arizona.

Mrs. Dugan remained calm to the last, even smiling as a guard slipped the black hood over her head.

Among the witnesses were six women, including the prison matron. The steel gallows trap at the penitentiary swung open at 5:02 a. m. Physicians said she died instantly.

Throughout her last night Mrs. Dugan played cards with friends, talking only occasionally. Her breakfast was untouched. The rain-smeared dawn lighted her march to the gallows, where she spoke three words as Warden Wright shook her hand and said "God bless you, Eva."

"God-by, Daddy Wright," she replied.

She was buried today in the bare prison graveyard, in the silk shroud she had made, with its decorations of beads and artificial flowers. She is survived by her father, William McDonald, of Ceres, Cal.; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Patterson, of Weston, Mo.; a daughter, Mrs. Cecil Loveless, of South Bend, Ind., and a son, whose whereabouts she never disclosed.

February 22nd Washington's Birthday Dollar Day at High's

Join in the Celebration---Share in the Savings!

PERHAPS you have heard the story about The Father of Our Country throwing a dollar across the Potomac River. He was able to do this, 'tis said, because a dollar would go farther in those days. But whether Washington did or did not perform this feat, we know that a dollar wouldn't buy as much in Washington's day as it will today at High's. And here's a page of extraordinary values at just one dollar to prove our assertion. Come share in the savings.

Prohibition Question Threat To Democracy, Daniels Says

Party Has Great Opportunity If It Avoids One Danger, Great Dry Spokesman Declares.

Prohibition continues to hover like a dark cloud over the otherwise clear skies of the democratic party, Josephus Daniels, publisher of the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer and one of the outstanding dry spokesmen in the country, said in Atlanta Friday. The former secretary of the navy in Woodrow Wilson's administration addressed the Georgia Press Association on the responsibilities of country editors.

"The democratic party has its greatest opportunity to return to power since 1912 if it evades one danger," Mr. Daniels said in an interview before he went to Emory University to speak to the newspapermen. "That danger is the prohibition question. City wets will continue their effort to make prohibition the dominant issue. If the democratic party will merely endorse the enforcement of the prohibition law, giving it a fair trial, and then talk about its repeal should it eventually prove a failure, the threat to party success can be avoided."

Mr. Daniels described the national political situation today as not unlike that of 1909 when Senator Dilliver led the fight against the Aldrich tariff bill. In Senator Borah, a companionate dry in the ranks of the opposition, Mr. Daniels sees a counterweight to Dilliver with the west now, as then, seething with political unrest.

Election of Wilson.
"It was not the republican party split over Roosevelt that elected Woodrow Wilson in 1912," the Terrell publisher said. "Mr. Wilson would have been elected anyhow and was clearly foreshadowed when the democrats captured congress in 1912. Privilege is the issue for the campaigns of 1936 and 1938. Privilege is always in the saddle when the republicans are in power. It has exploited the country too far. Many men, with full bellies, are willing to let the established order alone, but when they are empty—and many of them are empty today under Hoover prosperity—they begin to ask questions."

"No appointment to an important office is made by the republicans without the approval of big interests. Take the recent appointments of Hughes and Tate for example. Both are excellent gentlemen and splendid lawyers but neither would have been given office without the endorsement of privilege."

"Herbert Hoover is not responsible for the present situation of the republican party. He inherited party."

Relieves Headaches and Quiets Nerves

Realizing that no one drug can conquer all headaches from so many causes, a North Carolina druggist developed a combination of five ingredients which function together, giving immediate, complete and safe relief for any kind of headache, neuralgic or rheumatic pain, quiets the nerves and leaves you normally buoyant, without depression or bad after effects.

This combination of pain-relieving ingredients, so efficient for women also at special times, may be found at any drug store or soda fountain under the name "B-C" (100 and 250) ready for use in eating, drinking and quieting nerves in three minutes. "B-C" is the most effective preparation of its kind ever discovered and is guaranteed harmless.

To avoid imitations, substitutes, don't ask for a "headache powder," but specify and insist upon "B-C" and get the original and genuine. It never fails to bring quick and comforting relief.

Warrant for $153,000 To Pay Pensions Signed

Governor L. G. Hardman Friday signed a warrant for $153,000 to pay one-half of the Confederate veterans' pensions for the first quarter of this year. This will amount to $25 for each pensioner.

The 1929 legislature sought to increase pensions from $30 a quarter to each pensioner to $30 a month for each pensioner, but due to an error in the law the attorney general ruled that the old scale would be paid. The warrant Friday was under that ruling.

MORNINGSIDE SCHOOL POSTPONES PROGRAM

Because of the absence from the city of Dr. Willis A. City To Sell Feb. 27 60 Cows, 10 Calves

The city of Atlanta will offer for sale at auction 60 cows and 10 calves on February 27, thus officially doing away with the city dairies, it was announced Friday. Notice of the sale was sent out in the mail Friday by Mayor J. N. Bagley and many local dairymen are expected to be present to bid at the auction, which will be conducted by W. J. Davis. The decision to sell the animals was brought about by a recommendation of general council that the cost of upkeep of the cows for milk to be given prisoners did not warrant their maintenance.

Indictment Charges $2,091 Cable Theft

Theft of $2,091 worth of telephone switchboard cable from the storehouse of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company Friday was charged to Henry Beavers, Archie Blackwell and Boots Mack in three indictments returned by the Fulton county grand jury. The burglaries occurred on February 1, 12 and 13, according to the true bills.

Augustus Sutton was indicted on two counts growing out of the alleged attempted theft of an automobile belonging to Mrs. Eleanor H. Carson, of 458 Hammond, S. W. One true bill charges Sutton with larceny of the automobile, and the other charges the defendant with assault with intent to murder Harvey Carson, Jr. At the solicitor-general's office it was said that Harvey Carson, Jr., surprised Sutton in the act of making off with the automobile, and was attacked by the defendant, who used a blunt instrument. Carson succeeded in getting the upper hand, however, with a wrestling hold, and kept Sutton in custody until neighbors arrived.

An indictment charging Charlie Cook, negro, with the murder of his wife, Mary Cook, on February 17, was returned by the grand jury. The woman was slain with an ax.

MRS. BOOTH SLATED TO REACH HERE TODAY

Deputy Sheriff Holland Leaves To Return Alleged Kidnapers.

If all goes well Mrs. M. L. Booth, alias Krebs, will arrive in Atlanta this morning in the custody of Deputy Sheriff R. M. Holland, chief jailer of Fulton tower, to answer two indictments charging her with kidnaping Atlanta girls for her road show. Deputy Holland left Atlanta for Asheville, N. C., where Mrs. Booth is held for Georgia authorities Friday morning.

Sheriff James L. Lowry said that he advised the governor of North Carolina of the facts concerning Mrs. Booth's precipitous flight from South Carolina a few hours before officers arrived to serve extradition papers honored by South Carolina, and asked that the extradition papers be rushed to Asheville in order that a repetition of the South Carolina escape might be avoided.

Mrs. Booth is charged with kidnaping Miss Bessie Louise Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Russell, of 353 North Avenue, N. W., and Miss Martha Robinson, daughter of Billy Shannon, daughter of Mrs. Mary Robinson, of 467 Luckie, N. W.

Members of the cast of "The Foot-light Revue" were reported arriving in Atlanta in small groups Friday, although Mrs. Robinson said that she had no further word from her daughter and did not know whether or not she was returning to the States. Russell arrived home earlier in the week.

'Pig Near Police Station Is Raided

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Directly across the street from the headquarters, the Headquarters restaurant, at Grand street and Central Market place, was raided today by federal agents who seized eight bottles of liquor.

Those arrested were Mario Mural, a waiter, and H. Ferdinand, the owner.

Several policemen were in the restaurant at the time of the raid. They were allowed to leave but the prohibition agents ordered the other diners to remain until they could be questioned.

Ferdinand and Mural were charged with selling intoxicating liquor.

807 Georgians Trek To Europe in '29

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(Special)—Georgia furnished 807 of the tourists and world travelers which the United States sent to Europe and other foreign countries last year.

The figures are taken from a comprehensive report on the subject made public here today by the state department. The report shows that something in excess of 200,000 Americans were issued passports in 1929.

New York city led the entire country by a wide margin, with 23,888 percent of the total, or 38,834 world travelers.

While the Georgia totals represented only approximately one-half of 1 percent of the total for the country, actually the figures mean more than this because of the large number of issued passports from the states were going as tourists rather than immigrants returning to the old country.

Four Hurt in Crash Of Plane in Maryland

BALTIMORE, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Four persons were injured, two critically, tonight in the forced landing of a cabin monoplane at Logan field, Captain Lyman Patterson, pilot, and W. C. Carnan, student aviator, both of Baltimore, were unconscious when taken from the wreckage. Thomas L. Kane, Perryville, student aviator, and Harris Kirk, Baltimore, passengers, were less seriously hurt.

The motor of the plane, being tested for a flight tomorrow, fell to the ground. The plane fell to a field recently acquired by the airport.

All the injured except Kane were employees of the Curtiss-Wright flying service.

FOREIGN TRADE CLUB WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

The next meeting of the Atlanta Foreign Trade Club will be held at 12:30 o'clock in hall No. 1 of the Chamber of Commerce, and will be featured by an address by Russell Whitman, president and publisher of the Georgian American, on the "Growing Market for Georgia Goods in Cuba and Latin America."

This meeting is open to visitors and Atlanta businessmen interested in extending their trade to Cuba and other countries southward are invited to attend. The good-will and trade tour to Cuba, which is being sponsored by the trade club, will be discussed at this meeting.

Proper Diet Essential To Success in Business

Constitution's Cooking School Will Aid Housewives in Preparing Healthful Meals.

The better the breakfast the bigger the business—the new slogan of the untiring businesswoman.

And this slogan is to be brought home to the feminine heads responsible for the breakfast menu when The Constitution's cooking and homemaking school opens Tuesday, according to Miss Jessie Marie DeBoth, director of the school.

While I have never heard of any statistics being compiled on the number of deals that fall through because of the businesswoman's lack of proper diet, we do know for a certainty that the big business of the nation is built upon the vitality of its founders," asserted this nationally recognized authority.

"There is no king in this country but good health and to those who wear that crown goes the royal heritage of happiness," Miss DeBoth added.

Every man must have the food which is best suited to his particular body. It is not enough to eat, it is to eat properly, according to this expert, and thus the homemaker of today is given the greatest opportunity to expand her individuality in one of the greatest arts of the modern age—the art of cooking. She also declares that her studies of home conditions the country over have convinced her that men are just as interested in balanced diets as are their wives.

"It isn't food consciousness so much as just plain common sense that makes the American husband and father an ardent disciple of healthful meals," Miss DeBoth believes. "He knows that his ability to carry on is based on his energy, which is derived from a properly balanced diet."

"If the average businesswoman were to start the day with a meal of roast beef and potatoes, which is not more absurd to start a man out in the morning with a meal lacking in the proper vitamins, minerals and proteins than it is to give him beef and potatoes, the effects of the diet lacking the energy-giving elements might not be so rapid but it would be just as sure to point to his ruin as a businesswoman."

There is another reason, Miss DeBoth confessed, why she intends to stress the balanced diet for the businesswoman. She has discovered that through her years of observation that nothing makes a man want to hurry home from his work more than the surety that his wife is preparing a petting, balanced meal when he gets there.

So it is up to the feminine head of the family to keep up-to-date on the knowledge of kitchen products and how to serve them most advantageously. That her task is not unpleasant is assured by the success of modern invention, which has lightened her labor and given her most interesting things with which to work.

Her highest job is to keep abreast of the times, Miss DeBoth believes. So rapidly is science and invention changing the routine of life that home economists and specialists are compelled continually to study new devices and test new recipes.

The result of these hours of research is to be shown to the homemakers of this community by Miss DeBoth. The famous home economics expert assures the tired businesswoman that the hours of nervousness spent at the cooking and homemaking school will be to her credit and satisfaction in the end.

Condition of Taft Becomes Alarming

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(UN)—President Taft's recovery from his present serious illness from blood and bladder complications was expressed by friends today.

His only daughter, Mrs. Helen Taft Manning, acting head of Bryn Mawr College, came to the home of the former president and chief justice today for another visit, and other members of the family are expected soon.

Mr. Taft was reported unofficially to have had a bad night Tuesday and again last night, but his physicians told the United News that the situation was not critical. The 73-year-old patient is very weak due to the complication of diseases, and he has slight rashes and relapses, it was said.

Bulletins of his condition are still issued daily. Today's saying he was "about the same."

His successor as chief justice, Charles Evans Hughes, was unable to visit him today because of his own illness, presumably because of his weak condition.

Mabel Willebrandt Pays $10 Speed Fine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Mabel Walker Willebrandt pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding in traffic court today, paid a fine of $10 and left the courtroom by a side door.

A battery of cameramen waited in front of the courthouse for an hour before they came to the conclusion that the former assistant attorney general had no intention of coming out the front way.

The case was the first called in police court. Mrs. Willebrandt walked down the aisle before even the few spectators present began to whisper her name. The quietly answered that the former assistant attorney general had no intention of coming out the front way.

Mrs. Willebrandt was arrested last Friday by Patrolman William Hopkins who said he took her into custody on K street, near Nineteenth, last Friday night after pacing her machine for five blocks at a speed of 38 miles an hour.

Prohibition Question Threat To Democracy, Daniels Says

Party Has Great Opportunity If It Avoids One Danger, Great Dry Spokesman Declares.

Prohibition continues to hover like a dark cloud over the otherwise clear skies of the democratic party, Josephus Daniels, publisher of the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer and one of the outstanding dry spokesmen in the country, said in Atlanta Friday. The former secretary of the navy in Woodrow Wilson's administration addressed the Georgia Press Association on the responsibilities of country editors.

"The democratic party has its greatest opportunity to return to power since 1912 if it evades one danger," Mr. Daniels said in an interview before he went to Emory University to speak to the newspapermen. "That danger is the prohibition question. City wets will continue their effort to make prohibition the dominant issue. If the democratic party will merely endorse the enforcement of the prohibition law, giving it a fair trial, and then talk about its repeal should it eventually prove a failure, the threat to party success can be avoided."

Mr. Daniels described the national political situation today as not unlike that of 1909 when Senator Dilliver led the fight against the Aldrich tariff bill. In Senator Borah, a companionate dry in the ranks of the opposition, Mr. Daniels sees a counterweight to Dilliver with the west now, as then, seething with political unrest.

Election of Wilson.
"It was not the republican party split over Roosevelt that elected Woodrow Wilson in 1912," the Terrell publisher said. "Mr. Wilson would have been elected anyhow and was clearly foreshadowed when the democrats captured congress in 1912. Privilege is the issue for the campaigns of 1936 and 1938. Privilege is always in the saddle when the republicans are in power. It has exploited the country too far. Many men, with full bellies, are willing to let the established order alone, but when they are empty—and many of them are empty today under Hoover prosperity—they begin to ask questions."

"No appointment to an important office is made by the republicans without the approval of big interests. Take the recent appointments of Hughes and Tate for example. Both are excellent gentlemen and splendid lawyers but neither would have been given office without the endorsement of privilege."

"Herbert Hoover is not responsible for the present situation of the republican party. He inherited party."

DAY IN FINANCE

By
R. L. BARNUM

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—With tomorrow a countrywide holiday trading in stocks slowed down today. There was some overnight calling of margins as a result of yesterday's heavy selling of stocks including real liquidation as well as short selling based on the continued decline in commodity prices. After an irregular opening stock prices started to advance but at a slow pace.

Wheat was up from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents before noon. Cotton was steady. If commodity prices resume the downward movement next week, stock prices may go lower. But the feeling here today is that the technical condition of the stock market has been improved by the recent downward price movement culminating yesterday in the sharpest decline of the year.

Wheat and flour exports for the past week were 5,540,000 bushels against 5,200,000 the previous week and 7,120,000 a year ago. From July 1 to date the figures are 197,000,000 bushels against 190,000,000 for the corresponding period of last year. These figures throw much light on the recent trouble making downward trend in wheat prices. Because of comparatively large crops and unsatisfactory financial condition at home foreign countries have been buying less wheat here than the carry over is large.

Contracts let in January in New York state for building and engineering work for $51,528,000, according to figures made public today. This compares with $85,500,000 for January of last year and with $102,018,000 for December. Contemplated work at the end of January stood at a new high record of $715,000,000 against $128,000,000 a year ago.

Box Film Battle Changes.

A change has taken place in the Fox Film receivership controversy as a result of a letter just sent by Fox to shareholders charging Halsey, Stuart & Company with having plunged the company into its present predicament, with having brought suit for money before it was due and with having pressed for a receivership "which they knew would destroy the company when they are offered payment in full for their notes that are now selling at 70 per cent of their face value." There is an old saying in the financial district here that "if you play with Wall Street you must live up to your agreements." Up to the present time Wall Street has sided with Halsey, Stuart & Company in the Fox receivership controversy because Halsey, Stuart & Company claimed that in turning to the bankruptcy syndicate made up of the Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, Lehman Brothers and Dillon, Read & Company for financial assistance Fox had broken his contract with Halsey, Stuart & Company, precluding Fox Film for 15 years from seeking financial assistance elsewhere without giving Halsey, Stuart preference.

In his letter to stockholders Fox says that contracts held by Halsey, Stuart & Company are "invalid and unenforceable" and were violated by Halsey, Stuart & Company when they "demanded receivers for the two Fox companies which they were under duty to protect." Fox also openly charges Halsey, Stuart & Company and the Electrical Research Products, Inc., which is owned 100 per cent by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, with having encouraged but urged the purchase of Loew's stock and the stock of the British chain of theaters, the purchase of this stock being at the bottom of the floating debt which has made the existing trouble for Fox Film and its subsidiary companies. Fox points out that the earnings of his companies were never as large as today. Fox says he turned thumbs down on Halsey, Stuart & Company, Inc., because "after shelving and encouraging us into our present predicament by promises that they were not able to make good they now swoop down upon us in the extremity for which they are responsible and sue for the money loaned through them before it is due and then press for receivers which they know will destroy the companies when they are offered payment in full for their notes."

It has been intimated in this column that there is an amazing story behind the propaganda which has been actively circulated to bring about a receivership for Fox Film. The Fox

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTH WILL BE MARKED TODAY

Agnes Scott Alumnae Hold Double Celebration

Cherries, hatches, cocked hats, the array of bright colored souvenirs which mark the appearance of George Washington's birthday will feature social functions of the day. The Father of His Country will make himself felt not only in the hearts of his countrymen but at every party which is afforded additional interest by the making of his birth, this illustrious statesman, who throughout the land will be signally honored today.

The birthday of George Washington and the birthday of Colonel George W. Scott, founder of Agnes Scott college, will be observed today when the alumnae of Agnes Scott college living in and near Atlanta will gather at the Biltmore hotel for this celebration. A very interesting program will be broadcast over radio to alumnae groups in other places. The Glee Club of Agnes Scott will sing several numbers. Miss Nannette Hopkins, dean; Dr. J. A. McCain, president, and J. K. Orr, chairman of the board of trustees, will give messages to the alumnae after Mrs. Brainerd Adams' address of welcome.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. Lewis Johnson, of the music department of Agnes Scott college, and Mrs. D. B. Donaldson, alumnae secretary. After the radio program, dinner will be served to the alumnae, the trustees and the friends and guests of the evening. During the dinner, Miss Florence Perkins, president of the Atlanta Club, will welcome the Atlanta group and their husbands and escorts and introduce S. G. Stukes, registrar of the college, who will talk on "The Problem of Students at the College." The evening's entertainment will be brought to an end by the singing of the alumnae song.

Writers' Club Gives Program.

The Thursday evening dinner program of the Atlanta Writers' Club assembled a large number of Atlanta's writers, with many prominent guests. Dudley Cowles, president emeritus of the Writers' Club, with Mrs. Cowles, was present, and spoke briefly of the successes of various members who have brought the club into national prominence. Ashton Chapman, chairman of the short story division, was in charge of the program.

Gwynne Burrows made a talk on "Short Story Technique." Miss Jessie Hopkins spoke on "Short Story Masterpieces." In the course of her talk she spoke briefly of the stories of Balzac, Cheyov, de Maupassant, Tolstol and others whose works have become classics. Among the more recent writers whose works are outstanding in this field are Sherwood Anderson's "Triumph of the Egg," Willa Cather's "Youth and the Bright Medusa," Katherine Mansfield's "The Garden Party," and a number of interesting collections of short stories.

The following short stories, written by members of the club, were read: "Miss Agnes Kendrick Gray read 'The Dead Woman,' by Minnie Hite Moody, and 'Realization,' by Gwynne Burrows. Ashton Chapman read 'The Treasure of Penman,' by Lois Dwight Cole.

Announcement was made by Mr. Chapman of a one-act play contest which is being sponsored by the Civic theater of Atlanta, and which is open to any Atlanta writer wishing to participate, and to all members of the Civic theater.

Mr. Skidmore Talks on "Sculpture" At High Museum of Art Sunday

Explaining the merits of notable works of art, Lewis P. Skidmore, director of the High Museum of Art, will deliver an informal illustrated talk on "Sculpture" at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, February 23, in the auditorium gallery of the museum, 1282 Peachtree street.

The lecture will include the two types of sculpture, that embodying the spirit of movement and that which is primarily static, as "The Thinker," by Rodin. Stereopticon views and sculpture from the permanent collection of the museum will be used to illustrate the talk.

Mr. Skidmore's wide experience as an art instructor and his familiarity with the masterpieces of sculpture here and abroad will render this talk one of the most interesting which has been given at the museum throughout the winter. Interest in the Sunday afternoon activities, which have included demonstrations of painting, sculpturing, talks on marionettes, gothic art, tapestries, painters of the old and modern school, have proven of wide interest, the museum having been visited by hundreds during an afternoon.

Exhibits on view at the museum will afford the visitor examples of the best in American art. The etchings of Grant Reynard, of Leonia, N. J., widely known American artist, which have recently been placed on view, comprise one of the most artistic collections to have been shown at the museum. The handling of lines and the fine feeling of light and shade embodied in these studies assure them a noteworthy place in the field of art. Among the outstanding etchings being shown are "In a London Gallery," "Paris Baby," "Fall Leaves" and "Carnival Landing."

The 26 oil paintings of Frederick Mulhaupt, of Gloucester, Mass., are being shown in the auditorium gallery. These paintings, which include principally marines, are full of sunlight and the irresistible appeal of the sea. The pen and ink drawings of A. B. Frost, well-known American artist, are also on view. The permanent collection of the museum contains rare works of art which are always of interest to the visitor. The museum will be open to the public from 8 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

24TH INSTALLMENT.

"Did you see how I handled her?" he demanded. "Got her on the raw. She's not going to look about her very much. She wants a word or two with Joseph. If they give her the chance, Major, I shouldn't be at all surprised if she didn't pay me a visit, or you, before many hours are passed. Do you know, I am feeling quite reconciled towards your stupidity. I am sure that this temporary separation from my dear niece may not bring about our greatly desired end. A furious woman has been the ruin of greater men than Joseph. Any other matters to report, Major, before you leave?"

"There is one thing more, sir," I told him. "I believe that I have seen Joseph."

"Where?"

"At a dinner-party given by Lord Farendon at Chester's, and again at the moment I met with my misfortune in the Blue Skies Club."

"You are developing reticence," my employer sneered. "You sit there for the best part of an hour, talking about comparative trifles, and have not vouchsafed that interesting piece of information."

"It is because it can't exactly be called information that I haven't mentioned it," I explained. "It is just an idea. He is facing me in the restaurant, and his eyes deliberately mocked me. I could imagine him as the man who led the attack upon this house, and I could imagine him also as the man leaning over the end of my bed. I couldn't identify him, of course, but from the bottom of my heart I believe that man is Joseph. One thing I am certain about. It was this same man who looked up from behind the desk in the secretary's office at the Blue Skies and grinned at me."

"Your suggestions," my employer admitted, "are full of interest. Try your hand at describing him. Try your best, although it was not an easy task. I looked through a dozen snapshots he pushed across to me and could do no more than find a vague likeness in any one of them. What name was he passing under?"

"I got a maitre d'hôtel to bring me a list of the guests," I said. "There was something queer about that, too. He was put down as simply Mr. X."

"Not so good," my employer regretted. "A man as clever as Joseph would have a name and an identity, and plenty of corroboration at hand. You have a list of the guests. Owtson?"

"Here, sir," I replied, handing it to him.

"It may amuse me," he remarked, glancing at the names. "To get this affair in train after your departure. Report to me anything the young woman says or does of significance during the journey, and do not attempt to follow her at Liverpool Street station. I may yet find a place for you," he went on, "but it will not be as a sleuth as Joseph. If you could have permanently a little of the discretion you have exercised during the last 24 hours, you might in time be very useful to me."

"There is only one way in which I wish to be useful just now, sir," I reiterated. "I want to find your niece."

"Quite correct," was the unenthusiastic reply. "Quite in accord with the proprieties. Personally I have but one anxiety in connection with her disappearance."

The man's colossal selfishness appalled me. I knew quite well that he was thinking only of his miserable secret.

On the way to London, Rachel curled up in a corner seat of the first-class carriage, a scowl upon her face. She scarcely took the trouble to reply to my few efforts at conversation. She had all the appearance of a woman in pain or pursuing evil thoughts. Only once her lips moved, and she was evidently talking to herself. I fancied then that she repeated that unhappy sentence—"a creature of the slums and alleys." She showed no interest in the familiar places we passed; neither did her liberty seem to be affording her any particular pleasure. She regarded me with a cold stare, and her progress into that mass of life around Bethnal Green Junction without movement or any sign of excitement. As we drew near Liverpool Street, I was obliged to speak to her.

"What about money?" I asked.

"Keep it," she answered. "I have plenty."

She rose to her feet, shook out her skirts, smoothed her hair.

"You wait," she said. "You may get a surprise before long. You're after Joseph. And you can't find him. You don't know what he's like. You don't know whether he's a gentleman or a coster. He's clever, Joseph is."

"Why did you leave him?" I asked.

"I did it in a temper. I do things sometimes like that. I'm always afraid that some day—"

"Talking a bit, ain't it? Never mind. No harm done."

I leaned forward. We were drawn up on a great tangle of tracks just outside the station, lights flashing on each side, and trains everywhere coming and passing.

"Rachel," I said, "listen to me for a moment. I want to get Joseph, if I can. That's part of my job, but more than that, by a long way. I want to make sure that Beatrice Essiter comes to no harm. I want her back again safely. Do you get me?"

She nodded.

"I'm not going to follow you," I continued. "I don't care where you go. I want to find Beatrice Essiter, and after that, I don't care what happens."

She sat up, and her eyes sparkled.

"You're the first man I've met, anyway," she declared, "who put the girl before the job."

"You haven't lived long," I told her curiously, "and you haven't lived very widely. Anyway, you know the truth now." I added as we glided into Liverpool Street station. "You say you don't need any money, and there's nothing else I can do for you. Well, then, off you go, young woman, and the best of luck to you."

"You're a good fellow—of your sort," she said, a little awkwardly, "and Joseph's a devil. I sometimes think he's Satan himself, but if I lived to be a hundred years old, he'd be my man."

I just saw her sprinting across the broad platform towards the first of a rank of waiting taxis. I saw her pause on the step of the first one while she looked around. Her expression seemed suddenly strained, almost ominous. She stood on tiptoe, as though to whisper the address to the driver. Then she sprang inside and disappeared.

I found a note from Inspector Bloor at my rooms, explaining that he was very busy, but would come to see me the moment he could leave the yard, probably between nine and ten, and at 8 o'clock that evening, looking perhaps even more dejected than I felt, I was ushered into Mr. Leopold's luxurious suite in Berkeley street. My host, wearing a magnificent plum-colored dressing gown, greeted me warmly.

"The cocktails at once, Maurice," he ordered, addressing the man who had admitted me. "Sit down, major. Well, how goes it?"

"Badly," I admitted.

"No word of the young lady?"

"Nothing. We have an idea, though, as to what has become of her, and her uncle is furious. He had turned me out of the house and given me the sack, and I don't blame him."

"Dear, dear me, that's bad! You say that you have a clew, though, as to what has become of the young lady. What do you mean by that?"

"Not exactly a clew," I explained. "We have had an anonymous letter from a man who has grudge against Mr. Martin Hews, from which we gathered that, in some way or other, she has fallen into his hands. What it all means I scarcely understand. I have only known Mr. Hews a week or so, and the whole thing is a mystery to me."

"Sounds as though it might be a mystery to any one," Mr. Leopold observed. "Well, here's better luck, major. I think you'll find that as good a cocktail as there is in London."

The cocktail was certainly good, and potent enough, as I discovered from my first sip.

"I'm terribly sorry about last night," my host continued. "How many drinks did we have in the office? Was it one or two?"

"I have no idea," I confessed. "Of course, it sounds ridiculous, but the story I told before the magistrate was practically the truth, so far as my memory goes. I just remember stepping in there, feeling a little giddy, and then everything seemed to go dark."

"Just as though all the lights had gone out, eh? It was exactly the same with me the last time I was bowled over. Well, now, tell me, major, is there anything I can do to help? You've been to Claridge's again, I suppose?"

"I was there half an hour ago. They have heard nothing of Miss Essiter."

"Would you like me to telephone to Scotland Yard or step down there?" I shook my head gloomily.

"But I don't think I should do anything of that sort for a day or two. Of course, there's always a chance that Miss Essiter may have joined up with some friends. Breezy's Mansion's a dull place for any girl."

"My own idea precisely," Mr. Leopold agreed, almost eagerly. "No good making a fuss before it's necessary. Have you any clue you can give me as to who this person may be who sent the anonymous letter?"

"Not the slightest in the world," I admitted. "As a matter of fact, he's the man we've been trying so hard to find."

"A gentleman?"

"Oh, no! I answered hastily. "He's the head of a gang of roughs down in the East End somewhere. I should not think he's ever set foot in Bond street in his life."

"Head of a gang of roughs," Mr. Leopold mused, his narrow little eyes scrutinizing me keenly. "Well, the police ought to know something about him, oughtn't they?"

I appeared to hesitate for a moment.

"Mr. Hews doesn't care much about the police," I confessed.

Mr. Leopold grinned. Every moment, he seemed to be becoming more at ease with me.

"I don't wonder at it at all, Major Owtson. If you'd been with that scarecrow many more months, you'd probably have understood the reason well enough."

JONES TIES FOR FIFTH AT SAVANNAH

Strange are the stories that come out of the race track enclosure where wicked men waste their substance investing in fickle horseflesh.

What men call luck has played fantastic pranks with the weak mortals who dare to guess the winner and express judgment in cash. The lore of the track is heavy with the quaint happenings in the betting ring. But a friend of mine, hereinafter called Elmer, because that is not his name, has just emerged from a fantastic experience in wagering at a long distance from the track. His story, verified as true in every detail, rivals any tale that ever came from old Kentucky, where similar stories have been dinner table conversation for a century.

"IT CAN'T LOSE."

Elmer long since had given up trying to beat the ponies, as the vulgarians term the noble vice. But the other night he was awakened from a deep sleep by the voice of the telephone bell. It was Long Distance.

Meekly obeying soprano commands to wait a minute, hold the line, and go ahead, he heard the voice of a bosom friend of his in Miami.

The Voice in Miami instructed Elmer to go out next morning and place $50 for him with a bookmaker on Lew Black to win the third race at Havana. "I'll send you the fifty tomorrow," added The Voice.

Elmer understood The Voice to say "Blue Black," wrote it down on a pad by the telephone, promised not to fail in his mission and went back to sleep.

CLOSE ENOUGH.

Elmer, next morning, laboriously hunted down a bookmaker (a scarce article in Atlanta nowadays, they say) and asked for the entry list.

Elmer studied it intently, but found no horse named "Blue Black." The nearest to that name was Blue Flag, quoted at 20 to 1. Well, it wasn't Elmer's money, so he invested.

JUST ANOTHER BLUNDER.

Elmer was out of his office all morning doing his daily rounds selling insurance. On reporting at his office about 2:30 he learned the bookmaker had been calling him frantically. Elmer hotfooted it into the marts again and found his man.

"You musta meant 'Lew Black' on that bet," said the bookie. "Lew Black is the good thing today."

"Yeah, maybe that's what the man in Miami said," replied Elmer. "He wouldn't be taking a 20-to-1 shot right on the nose, would he? ... How's to change it for me to Lew Black?"

"Sorry, it's past time in Havana," and that had the note of inflexible principle that all bookmakers acquire came into his words. "I tried for three hours to get you by telephone to change it."

Elmer begged the bookmaker to change the bet. The bookmaker was sorry but he had closed the book. And Elmer went back to the office and suffered. His blunder had just about cost The Voice in Miami, his friend, two or three hundred dollars.

THE MIRACLE.

Elmer fell to calling up the papers to find out about the third race in Havana ... and finally he learned.

Blue Flag had won at 15 to 1! Lew Black was third. Blue Flag, the horse Elmer had picked by mistake and had tried to retract, actually had won!!!

I am sorry to report that under the stress of the excitement, the suspense and the miraculous good fortune, Elmer went out and celebrated moderately.

THE CLEAN-UP.

Next morning the bookmaker paid Elmer $800.

A messenger boy also brought Elmer a money order for $50 from The Voice in Miami with the added message: "Sorry. Better luck next time."

Elmer debated long over what to do. Finally he pocketed $250 and wired the rest of the money to The Voice in Miami with this comment: "I put your money on Blue Flag by mistake. I am charging you $250 for my error."

A GAME FOR SUCKERS.

There is a lesson in all that. Do not gamble on anything, especially horses. The Voice in Miami KNEW Lew Black would win.

And like all sure things, Lew Black flopped. And good old Elmer, blundering along, collected heavily on a bonehead play.

Only the dumb and blundering can beat the ponies, as they say.

And, having beaten them once, the dumb egg becomes a wise boy and begins trying to outguess them and winds up with his pockets cleaned. Elmer, in spite of his experience, will lose his $250 back in a day or two.

N. A. P. S. Defeats Moultrie, 32 to 20

Following the lead of M. Fugitt, the basketball sextet of North Avenue Presbyterian school took a 32-20 decision from the Moultrie girls' team on the Tech court Friday night. Miss Fugitt scored 20 of her team's points.

The N. A. P. S. crew, trailing shortly after the opening whistle, soon overcame the slight lead accumulated by Moultrie and stayed well in front for the rest of the game. The half-way score stood at 16-12 in favor of N. A. P. S.

Tindall and Harriman shared the laurels with M. Fugitt for the victors, while L. Lane and Bryant starred for Moultrie.

Miss Orcutt Wins From Miss Van Wie

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Shooting a scintillating game that ordinarily would spell victory in any match gained the Florida women's golf championship for Miss Maudie Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., metropolitan and eastern champion, here today after going 20 holes against the sturdy play of Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, women's national finalist two years ago, and twice winner of the Florida championship.

Miss Van Wie had a mediocre card out, of which she had a fight to overcome in taking the final match of the twelfth annual championship extra holes. It is the first time Miss Van Wie has ever bowed to Miss Orcutt.

With breaks consistently occurring against her, the Chicagoan forced the match on to extra holes.

Miss Van Wie missed the championship on eighteenth as her ball hung on the rim of the cup after rolling direct over an undulating green. She was barely short on the nineteenth when she halved the hole.

TECH, GEORGIA CLASH TONIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

Two Quintets Will Meet Here at 8:30 O'Clock.

By Ralph McGill.

Master Herman Jerome Stegeman and his basketball team will quit Atlanta some time this morning for Atlanta, where tonight the Bulldogs will try to make the count three to nothing against the Jackets in the annual basketball series between the two arch rivals.

This game is to be played at the auditorium, where it may be seen. And despite the fact that the Jackets have gone down twice before a swarm of customers is expected to be on hand to see the final chapter written in the basketball season before the tournament begins.

BULLDOGS TOUGH.

Master Herman Jerome Stegeman has a team which will go into the tournament as one of the dark horses. It will not be such a dark shade either, for the Bulldogs have quite a basketball team. They have been defeated here and there, Clemson taking them and Kentucky adding a couple of defeats to the record.

This does not mean that the Bulldogs are not one of the best teams in the conference. They were ahead at Clemson until "Buck" Anderson, the stubborn guard, went down with an ankle that puffed up until it looked as if the Graf Zeppelin had laid an egg.

They have in Sandy Sanford a goal shooter, who is much above the average. They have a well-balanced team that can maintain a hard and fast pace all the way. It was this fact that made Mercer the S. I. A. A. favorite, fold up in the last half of the Wednesday night game won by the Bulldogs.

JACKETS ARE SET.

All of this has not daunted the Jackets. Out at the Flats they were working away yesterday with one idea. That was beating Georgia tonight and going into the tournament in a bad, mean fashion to give someone some trouble.

The Jackets lost twice to the Bulldogs, but the difference was as thin as a delicate-sliced ham. And when a team loses by a thin margin it always feels as if it should have won. The Jackets don't regard the Bulldogs so highly in spite of the fact that there are seven teams of the two ten-round record to just three on the Athens card.

Georgia will be without Buck Anderson, the guard. He will hardly be able to play. Herman Jerome Stegeman will not put him there and take the risk of ruining what progress the Jackets have made.

The Jackets have improved tremendously, developing surely through an arduous schedule. A victory tonight would send them into the tournament with a lot of old-fashioned vim and vigor.

The Jackets expect to have Sid Goldin and "Ginny" Wages back on the floor. Whether they will play or not is still a question. They are very good guards and if their injuries are healed sufficiently they will be in there battling the Bulldogs.

SEASON CLOSURES.

Tonight's games mark the close of the scheduled season over the conference. Two important games remain. The Seawave five will meet the undefeated Crimson Tide and Washington and Lee meets Kentucky. All four teams are formidable contenders for the title.

Fields To Fight Corbett Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Jackie Fields, welterweight titleholder, and Young Corbett, Fresno southpaw, rested today for the ten-round, non-title fight at the baseball park here tomorrow afternoon. The betting odds still favored the champion, 2 to 1. Because he had never fought a left-handed boxer, Fields made a practice of sparring with southpaws during his training for the fight.

The baseball park can accommodate 27,000 persons, and Promoter Anell Hoffman figured a gate of around $65,000. Fair weather seemed likely for the outdoor contest.

Latzo Surprises.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Pete Latzo, light heavyweight, who once held the welterweight crown, furnished one of the biggest surprises of the indoor season tonight by winning a 10-round decision over Larry Johnson, slugging negro from Chicago. There were no knockouts. Latzo weighed 175; Johnson 174.

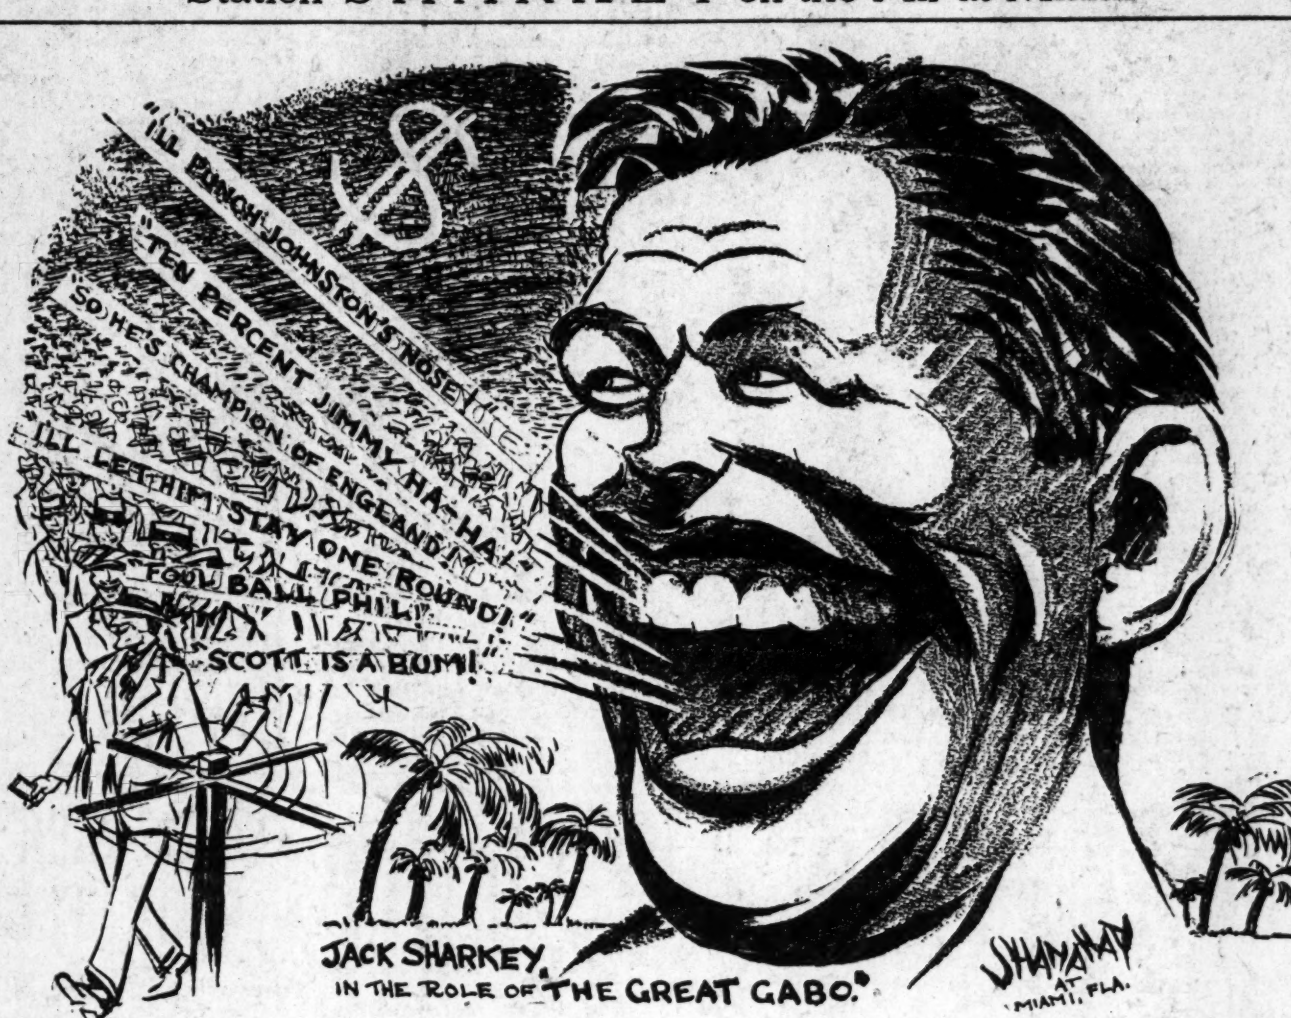

Tech and Georgia Swimmers Meet

Swimming teams of Georgia Tech. and Georgia Tech. varsity and freshman, will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic Club. The public is invited.

This dual meet will open the swimming season which will reach its height during the basketball tournament here next week. The Southern Conference swimming tournament will be held at this time.

Both Tech and Georgia have developed good swimming teams and a full program will be offered in the competition this afternoon.

OLE MISS SIGNS COLUMBIA MAN

Line Coach Succeeds Hazel; Chuck Smalling Is Named Assistant.

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Edward L. Walker, University of Columbia head line coach, was appointed by the University of Mississippi athletic committee today to succeed Coach Herman Hazel as athletic director and head football and basketball coach at Ole Miss.

"Chuck" Smalling, of Leland Stanford University, will become assistant coach to Walker. Walker announced that he was selecting for the position here he would name Smalling as his assistant because they are both exponents of the "Pop" Warner style of football.

At the same time the committee announced that "Tadpole" Smith would become head freshman coach.

Smith assisted Hazel in directing the activities of the varsity this season. He is expected to cooperate with the two new coaches in raising Ole Miss from the depths to which it descended in football this season.

Judge William Hemmingsway, chairman of the athletic committee, and Judge L. A. Smith, of Holly Springs, president of the alumni association and a member of the athletic board, issued statements after the session adjourned this afternoon brimming with confidence that Walker and Smalling would prove to be a great combination. Walker was an outstanding football player at Louisiana Polytechnic institute and Leland Stanford as an undergraduate, and since that has had extensive experience coaching football. Favorites Victors In Marietta Play

MARIETTA, Ga., Feb. 21.—Favorites won in the Marietta High school girls' invitation basketball tournament here this afternoon and tonight. The semi-finals will be played Saturday morning with the consolation and championship game carded for the evening.

In the first game today Calhoun defeated Fulton, 20 to 14. Play was a bit slow but Calhoun kept a lead all the way. Nelson eliminated Dalton 25 to 12 in the second game, scoring a speedy victory. Nelson couldn't miss, it seemed, and Dalton's dogged fight went for naught.

Ringgold, dark horse of the tournament, swept Decatur out of the tournament by a 22-to-11 score. The Ringgold five has become one of the outstanding favorites of the tournament.

Marietta gave the home folks a thrill by taking Cumming out of the tournament, 37 to 5. This was the most convincing victory of the day.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock Nelson and Calhoun will play. At 11 o'clock Marietta and Ringgold will meet. At 7:30 Saturday night the consolation game will go on to be followed at 8:30 by the championship contest.

Good crowds have witnessed the games which have been played in the school gymnasium.

Phil Scott Tumbles From Ring in Work

Britisher Trips, Goes Out Head-First and Comes Back To Make Impressive Showing.

By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Phil Scott, who seems to be pursued by a jinx in his preparations for the 15-round match with Jack Sharkey next Thursday night, was sent tumbling out of the ring today as the latest contribution to his series of minor mishaps.

Backing away from a wild, free swinging rush by Charley Hahn, chunky New York middleweight, in the very first round of his sparring session, Scott partially tripped over the ring canvas. As he ducked, a glancing right-hand blow threw him completely off balance and the lanky Briton tumbled through the lower ropes, his feet up in the air. It was almost a duplicate of the famous stunt that Jack Dempsey performed when he was sent backward out of the ring by Luis Firpo. Phil managed to grasp the lower strand of rope, saving himself from possibly serious injury.

Except for the damage to his dignity, Scott clambered back unhurt and proceeded with his workout. In fact, the mishap seemed to act as a stimulant to the pale British champion, for he went at the rest of his work with unusual spirit and impressed the critics with his best exhibition of boxing in many days. Phil was much faster and shifter than when he performed before Palm Beach society yesterday at the Oasis Club. He worked eight rounds altogether against Hahn, Jack Renault, Jack DeMave and Bill Middlekoff. He weighed a little under 160 pounds at the conclusion of his workout.

By contrast Sharkey was not quite so impressive to the experts as usual in today's workout, which marked the virtual end of intensive ring activity by the Boston sailor. Jack was slower about than he has been and his punches did not have their customary snap, but his showing was not regarded as significant of anything except that he has had a slight let down. He boxed only four rounds against eight rounds against Hahn, Renault, Jack Renault, Jack DeMave and Bill Middlekoff.

"I figured I was due for an off day," said Sharkey afterward. "This was it." There seems no cause for criticism of Sharkey's general condition.

All four of the "big shots" on the heavyweight card did their stuff on the Miami fronts today, their main bout at Benjamin Field, Hollywood for a workout in Scott's quarters and Victoriano Campolo again exhibiting his bulk and punch before the curious Miami Beach, Fla., crowd.

Victoriano Campolo, down to about 200 pounds now, will concede at least 30 pounds to his Argentine rival in their 10-round semi-final. He worked only four rounds in order not to lose any extra poundage. Campolo boxed four fast rounds.

Tommy Loughran was stamped with the official "ok" of the Miami boxing commission after a medical examination today and received his license for the preliminary match with Pierre Charles.

The boxing board canvassed the referee situation again today, shuffling the list of eligibles but it was understood the selections for third men in the ring already had been agreed on. Lou Magnolia, of New York, is slated to handle the main bout at Benjamin Field, Hollywood for a workout in Scott's quarters and Victoriano Campolo again exhibiting his bulk and punch before the curious Miami Beach, Fla., crowd.

TECH PRACTICE ENDS THURSDAY

Coach Alexander Decides To Call Halt After Another Week.

By Herb Clark.

Breaking a period of semi-silence in which information, most of it not so good, was traveling the rounds at a fast pace, Coach Bill Alexander, head man at Georgia Tech's football practice at the Flats, announced Thursday afternoon that there would be but one more week of spring football practice at the Flats.

"This," said the man, "is authoritative. On next Thursday afternoon the boys will lay the uniforms away. That is, they will be on hand to aid in the direct advancing of the ball, and a goodly crew of linemen will be around to see about opening holes for those backs to step through."

Coach Alexander reported himself as being well pleased with the progress made by his charges in the spring drill. In every department the showing of the yearlings has been one of the brightest spots in the spring drill. A large staff of backs with plenty of versatility will be on hand to aid in the direct advancing of the ball, and a goodly crew of linemen will be around to see about opening holes for those backs to step through.

The recrudescence of Brothers Barron, Speer, Herron, Tharp, Farmer, et al. is also appreciated. These lads, indelible and out of school last fall, are in a fair way toward attaining the good graces of the faculty and are expected to make things pop this fall.

Practices thus far have run the gamut from hard, hard scrimmages to long drills on fundamentals. The yearlings have been one of the brightest spots in the spring drill. A large staff of backs with plenty of versatility will be on hand to aid in the direct advancing of the ball, and a goodly crew of linemen will be around to see about opening holes for those backs to step through.

A few more scrimmages will be on tap early next week, with, as announced, the close set for Thursday. The punters will have short session beyond that time under the undivided attention of the entire coaching staff.

L. S. U. To Play Army in November

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Coach Russell Cohen announced tonight that the Louisiana State University football squad will meet the Army team at West Point, N. Y., on November 7, 1931.

Winder was eliminated from the tournament but it required an extra period to get them out. Wind, led Grayson at the half 12 to 7, but Grayson came back strong and tied the score at 14-14. They won in the extra period.

Shelville meets Lawrenceville and Grayson plays Braselton Saturday afternoon with the two winners meeting in the evening for the title.

The Bryan five was shut out this afternoon by the Shenandoah Junior High cagers, 22 to 0. The game, however, was a marked improvement over the showing last week of the Bryan outfit, when it lost to the Robert E. Lee Junior High basketballers, 63 to 0.

One free toss was allowed for the Bryan team this afternoon as the result of a foul on the part of one of the Shenandoah players. But the Bryan thrower missed his opportunity to ring up a counter.

ATLANTA ACE HAS 142 TOTAL; SMITH LEADING

Faulty Putting Sends Bob Down List; Smith Scores 137.

By Dillon L. Graham, Associated Press Sports Writer.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Horion Smith, the sensational young wizard whose Detroit 8 and 8 par-shattering 66 here today to take the lead among 90 entrants at the halfway mark in the $3,000 open golf tournament. His brilliant round score of today, coupled with his 71 of yesterday, gave him a 137.

While the Detroit golfer, who formerly registered from Joplin, Mo., was stroking his way around in 8 under par and equalling the course record, Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, national open king, was encountering trouble at almost every hole.

JONES FALTERS. Jones faltered badly on the outward nine for a 40, 3 over par, but settled down on the home nine for a 35. His 75 today, together with his 67 of yesterday, placed him in a tie for fifth place with 142.

Fairley Clark, slim blond local shot-maker, equaled his 69 of yesterday and was a step behind the leader with 138.

Four strokes away and tied for third honors were Emmett French, of Southern Pines, N. C., and Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., with 141. French had a 73 today to add to his 68 of yesterday, while Dudley, who posted a 72 yesterday, shot a great 69 today.

Bracketed with Jones at 142 was Joe Turnesa, New York, who posted a 71 of yesterday with another 71 today.

FOUR ARE TIED. Johnny Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla., former national open champion, was deducted seven strokes for playing for seventh place with 143. Jeff Adams, dynamic Scotch professional of Savannah, who had a 68 yesterday for the lead, was tied with French, New York, and Bobby Cruikshank, of Purchase, N. Y., also posted 143's.

Clustered within striking distance of the leader were five well known exponents of golf for cash. Whiffy Cox, of Brooklyn; Wild Bill Mehlhorn, of Pennsylvania; Neil McIntyre, of Indianapolis; Clem Weichman, of Portsmouth, Ohio, and the veteran Al Espinosa, of Chicago, all posted this score.

Herman Barron, swarthy young professional from Port Chester, N. Y., was a stroke behind with 145.

SEVEN BIRDIES. The slim blonde money maker from Detroit collected seven birdies and eagle as he shot his low score today. After shooting a par four on the first hole Smith drove into a trap on the third but had no trouble in recovery and was on the carpet in a while. He sank a short putt for a birdie three. Horton got another birdie on the third but had no trouble on the par four fourth and took a bogie five. He needed two putts.

After a par four on the fifth Horton secured a birdie twelfth and scored an eagle on the 248-yard thirteenth. He was on the green with his drive and sank a 15-foot putt. The fourteenth and fifteenth were made in regulation figures, while Smith got birdie fours on both the long sixteenth and seventeenth holes. He completed his great round with a par four on the 18th hole.

GOOD START BACK. The first two holes of the inward nine were made in par, while Smith's hole-in-one on the second hole scored an eagle on the 248-yard thirteenth. He was on the green with his drive and sank a 15-foot putt. The fourteenth and fifteenth were made in regulation figures, while Smith got birdie fours on both the long sixteenth and seventeenth holes. He completed his great round with a par four on the 18th hole.

JONES STARTS. Clustered within striking distance of the leader with 144 were five well-known exponents of golf for cash. Whiffy Cox, of Brooklyn; Wild Bill Mehlhorn, of Pennsylvania; Neil McIntyre, of Indianapolis; Clem Weichman, of Portsmouth, Ohio, and the veteran Al Espinosa, of Chicago, all posted this score.

Herman Barron, swarthy young professional from Port Chester, N. Y., was a stroke behind with 145.

The golfing barometer from Atlanta, who has won every major crown in goldform except the British amateur clearly showed his lack of practice today as he blew up on the outward trip and a little better than par on the home nine.

His score today was caused largely by his inability to hole his putts. Cautionary Jones, the famous putter, was completely off form and Jones missed nearly a dozen putts of 15 feet or less.

His drives and approach shots were generally up to the Jones standard but during the round he found the cup with only one of the many long putts he attempted. He required 18 putts alone on the outward nine.

TROUBLE. After shooting a par four on the first, the open champion pulled his tee shot on the 270-yard second and the ball lodged against a small sapling in the rough. Jones wanted a penalty but the referee ruled that the ball had been struck, sending the ball into a trap barely 15 feet in front. His approach shot was too fast and

Freshman Sprinter Is Star at Flats

"Stub" Stebbins, a freshman sprinter at Georgia Tech, is expected to take Ed Hamm's place in the sprints when that famous Jacket star departs from Tech. Stebbins has been clocked in 10.4 for the 100-yard dash, and in 22.5 for the 220 sprint. For February this is unusually fast time. He is expected to be down to 10.1 by late spring. Hamm has been out for a week with a pulled hamstring. He will be back at work next week.

Boys' High, T. H. S., G. M. A. and Decatur Win in Prep Tourney

CLOSE GAMES ARE SLATED IN SEMI-FINAL

Tech High, Purple Fives Stand Good Chance To Enter Final.

By Roy White.

Boys' High, Tech High, G. M. A. and Decatur were winners Friday afternoon and night in the first round of the city prep basketball tournament being played on the Atlanta Athletic Club court. G. M. A. defeated Marist and Decatur won over Russell in the afternoon games. Tech High easily defeated University School and Boys' High closed the night program with a victory over Fulton High.

Semi-finals will be played this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Tech High and Decatur in the first and Boys' High and G. M. A. will follow at 3:30 o'clock and the winners will meet at 8:30 o'clock tonight for the city prep championship.

Both of the afternoon games will be close, in fact they appear to be as good a semi-final card as ever appeared in a prep tournament in the city. Boys' High should rule the favorite over G. M. A. and Tech High has a slight edge over Decatur. It appears likely that the championship will be settled between Boys' High and Tech High.

There will be no set-ups in today's card, either in the afternoon or at night. The winners will rightly deserve the rewards.

BETTER.

In the Friday games the afternoon affairs were decidedly better. G. M. A. fought an uphill battle to beat Marist, 26 to 25, in the last minutes after trailing through the first three quarters. Decatur won over Russell, 33 to 12, after a much harder fight than the score indicated. It was an excellent passing and guarding game all the way.

Tech High Wins, 60-8.

Tech High defeated University, 60 to 8, in the first game on the night program with the reserves playing through three quarters. The reserves were leading, 15 to 8, at the half and were on the long end of a 28-to-8 score when Captain English and company went into the game.

The regulars piled up 32 points in the last 10 minutes of play and continued to hold University scoreless during the second half. Turner at center and White at forward were the stars for the Smith reserves with 11 and 10 points, respectively, while English and Chambers led the attack for the regulars. Chambers tied Turner for high scoring honors with 11 points. English scored four field goals during the 10 minutes he was in the game.

The work of Hardy, Boyd and Scott, the Tech High guards, was outstanding, as only two field goals were scored against them. They also played an important part in the Tech High passing.

Purple Beats Fulton, 54-22.

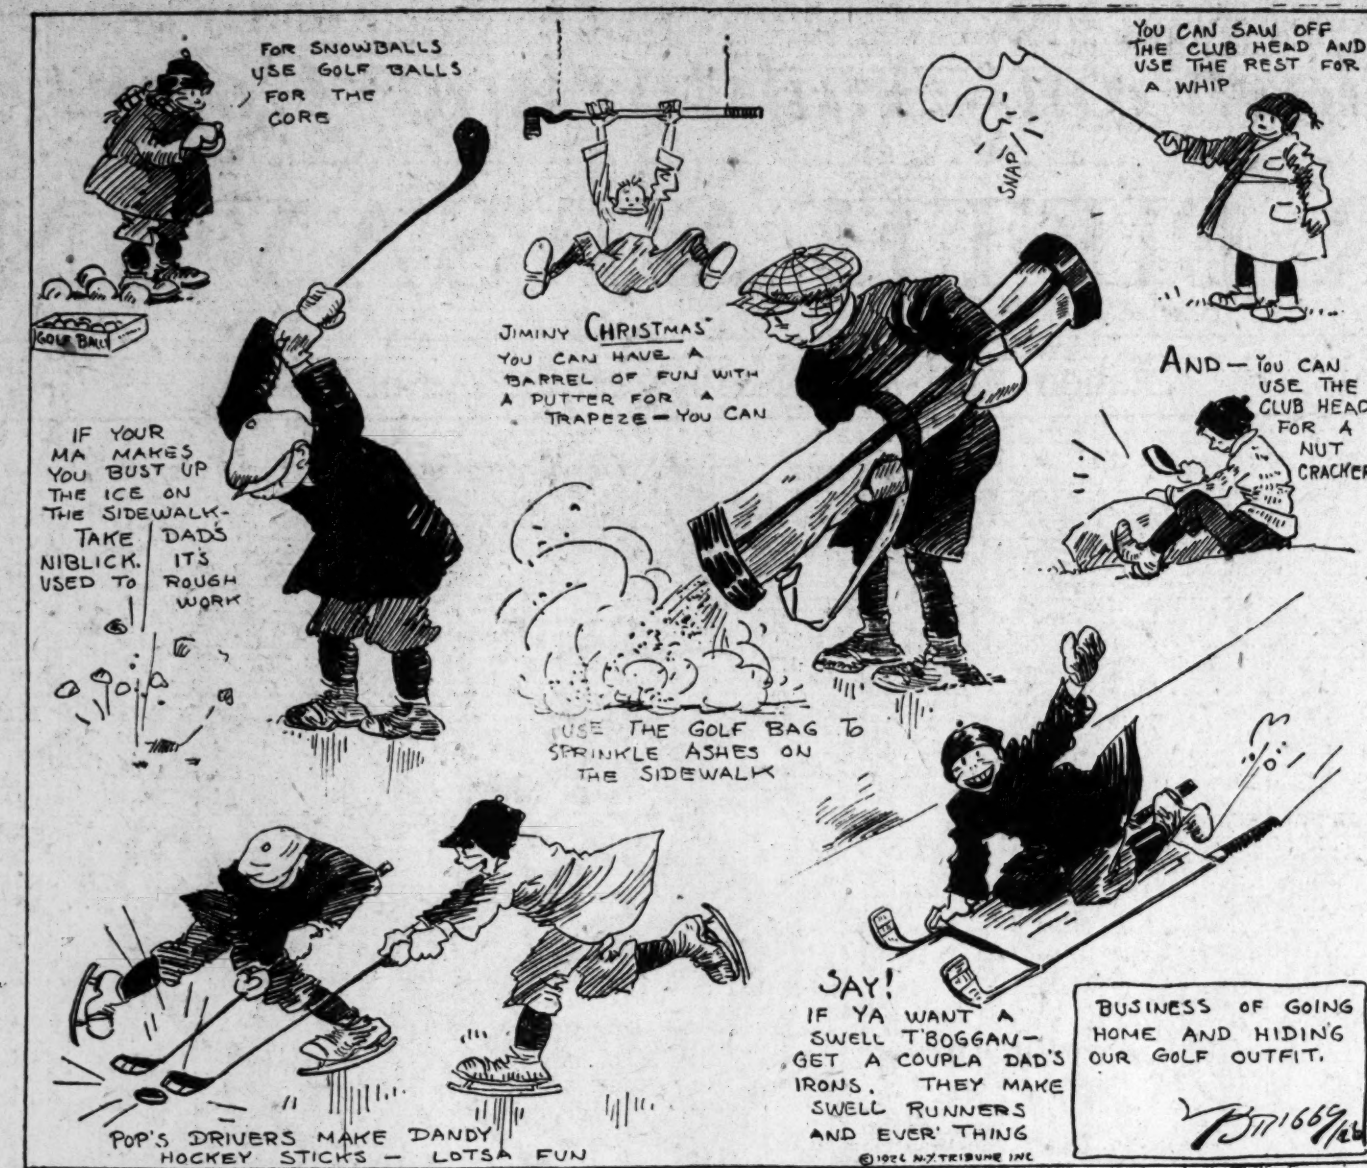

Boys' High won an unimpressive 54-to-22 victory over Fulton High. The game was marred by personal fouls and more than 30 were called. Two Fulton players, Brown and Stevenson, were ejected because of four personal fouls and Van Sant of Boys' High, was asked to leave the game because of fouls.

CENTRAL TOPS PIEDMONT LOOP

Matthews Leads Team to 18-10 Victory Over Gordon Street.

Ability on the part of Louie Matthews to locate the hoop enabled Central Presbyterian to win from Gordon Street Presbyterian, 18-10, and gain undisputed ownership of the top rung of the Piedmont league pennant ladder. Four field goals and one free shot was this lad's contribution to his club. Wilkinson led the losers with 13 points.

KEENEY PARK GETS MEETING

Dwyer Buys Track, Miami Horses Go There March 10.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Eighteen more days of thoroughbred racing was assured the state of Florida today when William Dwyer, owner of the New York American's Hockey Club, located midway between Jacksonville and St. Augustine.

With the termination of the meeting at Hialeah Park, Miami, the thoroughbreds will move to Keeney Park for a meeting opening March 10 and closing March 20—two days before the opening of the northern tracks at Bowie in Maryland.

The deal, transferring the second largest track in Florida from the hands of Frank Keeney to the hockey magnate, was completed today after a series of conferences. Although the purchase price was not announced, it is thought to have been close to $150,000. Dwyer is said to have offered that amount at a previous conference. $112,000 of which was to be paid in cash. The remaining $38,000 was owned by Keeney for construction work on the track.

Keeney, owner and builder of the track, has long been the fireball of racing in Florida. He built Pompano and Keeney Park to run in opposition to the Miami Jockey Club at Hialeah. The Jacksonville track, however, was not opened until last year when a three-week meeting was held with only fair success. A second meeting was started in December but ended suddenly with the disappearance of Keeney at a time when the track was becoming unpopular.

Sonny Workman piloted the speedy 4-year-old over the 5-1-2 furlongs in 1:05.3-5 to easily defeat a classy field of sprinters. At the finish line Workman had Sun Worship out in front, four lengths ahead of Maiden's Tryat. Focus was third, defeating False Price a head for the short end of the purse.

The triumph on Sun Worship was Workman's second of the day and a favorite. The Arden Farms colt was quoted at 9 to 5, while in the opening number Workman had piloted Let-alone home first at the same odds.

Mose Goldblatt put the energetic little Kenneth Russell upon his Golden West to win the Debutantes claiming handicap at the fair grounds, New Orleans. It was only a four-horse race but the son of Wrack won handily over the mile and sixteenth. Roy Gibson, from the Reuter stable, was second and Mrs. E. J. Thelin's Broad Axe third. Earl of Warwick was fourth and last. Golden West paid $5.30 for a $2 mutual ticket.

Sun Worship Wins Third.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Sun Worship, a speedy son of Sun Briar from the Arden Farms, lunged up his third victory at the Miami meeting today as he won the Himyar claiming handicap at Hialeah Park.

FOX WILL BRING NEW HOLD HERE FOR HARPER GO

Tuesday Night Card Offers Fans Plenty of Mat Action.

Atlanta wrestling fans may look forward to seeing a new hold, "The Little Rock Split," when Charley Fox meets Paul Harper here next Tuesday night at the auditorium.

Fox has met with the hold in matches with Rudy Dusek, who is credited with first using the split in Little Rock after working on its development for some time. Hence its name.

The new hold is a combination of the one and back split. It is applied from the rear. The wrestler seeks to hook one leg over and under his opponent's leg. He then throws his body behind him and hooks the inside arm under his opponent's other leg. This practically destroys all leverage for breaking the hold. The opponent's arms are free but he is helpless so far as using them is concerned. Fox has adopted the hold.

Harper is an excellent man with the front and back split hold. He may even know the Little Rock hold. Fox, who is really "Boscoe," who writes "em alive," is said to be the roughest man in the ring. He is the wrestler who dashed Procell to the floor here a short time ago and then said, "Bring on another Greek." An effort will be made to match him with a Greek at he makes a good impression on the fans in his match with Harper.

The Harper-Fox match is billed as the one-hour semi-windup. It will be as fine a feature as the mat action which brings Paul Jones and Milo Steinborn together.

This match brings Milo Steinborn back in a return engagement with Jones. They wrestled to a one-hour draw some time ago. Although Steinborn has lost matches here he has never really been pinned. He has been knocked unconscious twice, so far as actually being pinned is concerned he simply hasn't been. A preliminary match will open the heavyweight card. It is an unusual meritorious program which Promoter Webber has arranged, involving as it does four of the better-known heavyweight wrestlers.

DOWN the LINE

by W.D. McGeehan

EN ROUTE FROM ALGIERS SOUTH TO THE SAHARA DESERT, Feb. 21.—It looks like a fairly clean getaway from this place, though Mustapha Ali Bumbum, who has been camped in the Place de Gouvernement since our arrival in Algiers, has his doubts. The old sheik presented a bill for 200 francs for having fixed it up with the Muessein for prayers. For 100 francs more he will give me a nickel-plated hand of Fatima which always brings good luck.

But I have my doubts about Mustapha Ali Bumbum. I think that he is a back-sliding Mussulman. The other night I saw him in the company of a long lean man in a brown turban and burnous, who looked like a ringer for Ring Lardner. They were in a cafe on the hill and both of them seemed to be pie-eyed. The Mussulman religion forbids the use of wine or other relief from the smells of Algiers.

When I say that Mustapha Ali Bumbum's little playmate was a ringer for Ring Lardner I exaggerate a little. Mustapha Ali Bumbum's pal was laughing part of the time which is strange for an Arab and would-be stranger still for Ring Lardner, who always keeps a sad, dead pan excepting when he is reading one of his own articles, and then the laughs do not seem to be on the level.

Mustapha Ali Bumbum and Abou Ben Lardner took us for a trip up the hill to the Kasbah, where the Dey of Algiers used to sit in his tower and watch the Bay of Algiers to see his pirates bringing in the Christian slaves. Abou Ben Lardner told us that in one of the galleys they brought in Cervantes, the man who wrote Don Quixote, and that they gave him a job in the sewer department of Algiers. But Cervantes must have neglected his serious work for writing, because the sewers of Algiers would not pass inspection even in the Borough of Queens, New York.

Arranged because it consists of a chain of small donkeys with baskets of garbage on their backs. We met it in a street that was 31 inches wide, coming down the hill from an Arabian banquet.

Abou Ben Lardner tried to argue with the head donkey to give way but the donkey was in a hurry and he and Abou Ben Lardner got all mixed up in the fairway. After that when Abou Ben Lardner was leading the way through dark passages you could follow him by the sense of smell because it was more distinct than any of the older aromas in the Arab quarter which were varied and numerous.

Then Abou Ben Lardner suggested lunch at an Arabian restaurant, but he and Mustapha Ali Bumbum explained that they could not eat at the same table with the lady who was in the party and besides it was the Mohammedan lent and they were fasting, and abstaining even from tobacco. This made no hit with the lady in the party, who said that this was what was the matter with the country. It was a country for men, consequently a rotten sort of a country.

Mustapha Ali Bumbum and Abou Ben Lardner retired to the mosque while we were eating kouskous, which they call hominy grite in the Carolinas. I wish that I had gone to the mosque because I know four of them on the block back home, if what I gathered from taking a look at Mustapha Ali Bumbum and Abou Ben Lardner were true.

Mustapha's turban was all askew and Abou Ben Lardner fell on his face when he started to salaam. He said that Mussulmen always prostrated themselves when they prayed and it was all right because he fell with his face toward the east and it did not hurt him a bit. He missed his prayer rug just as an English heavyweight misses a bit of rosin sprinkled canvas when he started falling toward Mecca.

COUGHING ONE'S WAY IN.

The lady in the party said that she would like to see the interior of an Arabian house, and Mustapha Ali Bumbum said that it would be arranged because he would take us into his own house. He explained that he would have to go first and cough.

It seems that in an Arabian house the women are gathered in a sort of patio where they have a good time, panning the women of the neighborhood and doing the washing and what not. When the lord of the household is about to enter he gives a cough to indicate that he is coming. Mustapha Ali Bumbum coughed to show how it was done.

At this signal the women of the household scatter to their own places and the man of the house enters in peace. There is nobody to ask him what kept him three hours late at the office or if he had been in another of those poker parties. He moves into his own quarters and then gives two coughs as a signal to the women that they can come out again, but not to chatter too loudly because he has had a tough day on the street and his nerves are all shot to pieces.

While he was giving us this interesting information the eyes of the lady in the party were blazing. It seemed like a good idea to me, but it was evident that she did not approve of the Arabian notions for a menage. But Mustapha Ali Bumbum coughed at one of the doors and opened it. It was just as he said. The place was quiet and restful.

"Of course," explained Mustapha Ali Bumbum, "only the true believers of Arabs know this sort of peace. These privileges were not believed to be the Christian slaves. They tried coughing in the old days of the great Bey, but the women would pay no attention to them."

Women Are Barred Vastine Is Winner

At London Fights In All-Chi Meet

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Daily Express today said that women henceforth would be barred from attending boxing tournaments organized by the British Army Boxing Association. The paper said that the boxing was "not an edifying spectacle" for women, their admission being accordingly forbidden. This is the first time that women have been barred from the ring since the first annual all-Chicago golf tournament over the Miami Country Club course today. Vastine turned in a card of 83, while Artery had a total of 92, which with his handicap of 20 reduced his score to 72.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—George Vastine, of the Illinois Country Club, won low gross prize and M. C. the ball rolled across the green into another trap. He pitched back, rimmed the cup on his putt and holed out in seven, three over par.

Jones negotiated the third, fourth and fifth in par, and registered a birdie three on the sixth as his drive reached the green. On the seventh, a hole which Jones had to drive through a gap between bunkers, the Atlanta amateur hooked out of bounds.

Williams Develops Triple Threat

TH COACHES
PLEASE WITH
'REFORMED' END

New Backfield Man Passes, Kicks and Picks Up Speed.

By Ralph McGill.

Sid Williams, who was a good end when the football season closed for the Jackets last December in Athens, is looking more and more each day like one of those much-debated football accessories—triple threat back.

When Jerry Goldsmith stepped in with such a fine example of how an end should be played the Jacket coaches perked up and started in experimenting with Sid Williams. He was used in the fullback position and began to punish the opposition in the scrimmages.

It was not until the last few days, however, that the really began to develop. When an end gets a chance to reform he hurries.

ACCURACY.

Yesterday afternoon he was throwing passes with as much accuracy as Earl Dunlap. He was kicking, and he is a southpaw kicker despite his right-hand passing, better than any man on the field.

Bill Fincher, who was watching the Man at the Flats, Miss W. A. Alexander, drill the squad, said that he believed that Sid Williams would be the best back in the squad before the next season is done.

His sudden development is something of a mystery, one of those pleasing ones. "He picked up a lot of speed all of a sudden," said the Man at the Flats, "I don't know where he got it. Last fall he was rather slow."

PROMISING.

"Not only that but he is kicking rather well and passing off an instinctive hunch of the Man at the Flats. We were using him at fullback for a while. Now we are using him at halfback and he looks very promising."

The Man at the Flats rarely deals in superlatives. He was impressed, however, that he was impressed and rather gratified at the new addition to his list of promising backfield men for the 1936 campaign.

The squad of backs was going through a passing drill for some time. Sid Williams took his turn with the others. It was very evident that there were at least three good passers there, Bud Bonner, Sid Williams and Dunlap.

EXECUTION.

The maneuver called for a slight fake and Williams was executing it with a deft touch and an instinctive hiding of the ball that made him look very, very good. He had all the earmarks of a real back.

He punts with his left foot and throws with his right hand. All that which means that the Man at the Flats may cross up the enemy quite a lot. He may have two or three kickers in the backfield. And a southpaw kicker is lucky.

There aren't many left-footed kickers. There hasn't been a really good one in the conference since Frank Goss was kicking for Vanderbilt in 1919. Clyde Crabtree, the Florida star, is ambidextrous. He kicks or throws with either hand.

GOOD END.

Goldsmith, the end who caused coaches to experiment with Williams as a back, was a scrub last year. He was ineligible last fall. His play with the scrubs for a year developed him into a very good end.

He gave Williams his chance as a back and it seems to have been where he was made to play. It took him about two weeks to get into the training for an end. He then began to play the backfield.

Just as if he had taken one of those correspondence courses and then suddenly began to play the position to the great amazement of his friends.

Doonan Awaits Three Tourney Applications

Only One of Teams Will Be Allowed To Enter
Conference Gathering Here.

With 15 basketball teams entered in the annual Southern conference jamboree scheduled to get started next Friday at the City Auditorium, Chairman A. Doonan was wearing an embarrassed face as the final entry day rolled around.

It is thought that at least two more teams, and possibly three, have entry blanks in the matter. It is so it will be Chairman A. Doonan's sad duty to inform them that only one can enter.

That will be the team with the best record. Hence Chairman Doonan's embarrassment. When a gentleman wants to be your guest it is difficult to tell him he must stay at home. The conference rules, however, say that only 16 may enter.

Tulane has its entry in the mails and Clemson and Auburn are thought to be sure entries. Not a word has been heard from either Colonel Odo at Clemson, who has a very excellent team, or from the Tulane quintet. Auburn was told to go ahead and file an entry blank so that they could be entered in case there was a vacancy. Much to the gratification of the committee it seems that the tournament enthusiasm is higher than it has ever been.

ENTRIES.

North Carolina and L. S. U. entered yesterday to raise the total to 16. Maryland, W. L. V. M. I., Duke, North Carolina State, Georgia Tech, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi A. & M. and Mississippi had already entered.

If the three entries do come in they will cause some shifts in the lineup. Clemson and Tulane have better records than Mississippi A. & M. The team with the best record is admitted.

All entry blanks must be in the mail today. In the event the teams should do the unexpected and not enter a drawing would be necessary to determine which team would be given a bye on the first day's play. Officials for the tournament will be selected today and announced Sunday. It was said last night by Chairman A. Doonan.

BEGINNING.

These tournaments began in 1920 with an A. U. tournament. The committee then decided on an S. I. A. A. tournament and held one the next year. In 1922 and 1923 joint A. U. and S. I. A. A. tournaments were held, the latter one drawing more than 20 entries.

Since that time conference tournaments have been held. The conference ruled that the tournaments should begin on Friday of the last week in February. This allowed players on the 12th to be eliminated by Saturday night to have a day of travel in which to reach college and not miss any classes.

This tournament is expected to set new records for attendance. With both Tech and Georgia able to offer good teams, the basketball enthusiasm is sure to reach new levels.

West End Girls' Tourney Opens

The girls' division of the West End basketball tournament will begin play tonight at 8:40 p. m. at the City Auditorium. The tournament is sponsored by Glenn McConnell and anyone wishing information about it can get it by calling him tonight at 12:30 today at 1042-22. Among the stars of the hardwood courts of Atlanta entered are: Bo Cawthorn, Pauline Rudeberger, Marie Parker and Bobbie Barber.

U. S. Yacht Team.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The United States team of six-meter yachts which is to meet the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club in an international series of regattas will leave for Bermuda today. The team, representing America, will be the Heron, owned by Cornelius and Paul Shielde, of the Larchmont Yacht Club; the Thalia, owned by Louis G. Young, of the American Yacht Club.
